CALIFORNIA

From San Francisco

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 20.—Thomas Mooney had the cheek to send the following:

... Upper Canada, Sept. 19, 1870.

Collector of Internal Revenue, San Francisco:

Sir: I enclose you a bank order for $105 in gold to pay $150 currency assessed against me on your book as income tax for the current year ending August 1870. If the enclosed falls short of the amount Mr. Murray at the bank will advance a dollar or two to square it. Respectfully,
THOMAS MOONEY.

The opening session of the State University commences at 10 o'clock A. M. to-morrow at Oakland.

The attendance at the Agricultural Park to-day was much larger than yesterday. The races were better. The chief attraction was the running between Jeannette and Ben Butler, two year old colts, single dash of one mile, won by Butler in 1:53 2... and a trotting race, mile heats 3 in 5, to harness, free for all horses never having beaten 2:50, from the latter race Lady Signal was withdrawn and the race was then run as follows: Billy Russell 1 1 1; Charley 3 4 distanced; Aleck Benham 4 3 3 distanced; Fanny Lent 1 2 2 2. Time 2:43, 2:46, 2:45, 2:49½. A draught mare bay with mane reaching to the ground and with a colt having the same peculiarity were among the animals exhibited.

THURSDAY MORNING, SEPT. [illegible] 1870

Col Kelly's Degradation

In [illegible] the people of Oregon [illegible] part to contemplate [illegible] Kelly [illegible] might be elected Senator of the United States [illegible] has [illegible] ated himself in a manner that has no parallel thus far in the political history of the State. The conditions to which he [illegible] when it is considered that they were held over him with a threat that he should [illegible] them or be defeated are humiliating enough, or rather the fact that he was required to [illegible] pain of defeat to submit to the dictation of certain parties and pledge himself to vote to do what they wanted is sufficiently degrading. But when it comes to be considered that he has so far sunk his manhood as to subscribe to a written pledge to support certain railroad interests and oppose others, when it is understood that the very measure which he has thus bound himself to support is the measure which he and his party only three months ago denounced as an infamous scheme to build up a monopoly at the expense of the State, a corrupt proposition brought forward by Senator Williams at the instance of Mr Holladay, then the full depth of Col Kelly's degradation begins to be revealed. The Senatorial laurels gained by such a sacrifice are already withered. We are glad to believe that no other aspirant for Senatorial honors in either party would have submitted to such conditions. From the high minded gentleman which many had supposed Col Kelly to be he has fallen to an abject position in public esteem and even his own party turn with disgust from a contemplation of the complaisant and eager readiness with which he accepted the conditions to which he was required to subscribe and with which he would evidently have accepted any conditions, and given any promises that might have been exacted.

We repeat that Col Kelly's part in this transaction is one that would be humiliating, degrading and revolting to any person of true sensibilities and honorable motives. It would be bad enough for any man seeking the high position which he has succeeded by sacrificing his own independence and the respect of his fellow citizens in reaching to commit himself to certain particular interests and against others, but when to this is superadded the fact that he and his own party have heretofore denounced as an evil and corrupt scheme the very measure he has now accepted the thing becomes perfectly overwhelming. We call the people of Oregon to witness that when Senator Williams proposed the amendment to the Southern branch railroad, for which the Democratic party so malignantly denounced him, he did it disinterestedly and upon his own motion out of regard for the interests of Southern Oregon. He did it because he perceived that the interests of that section of the State had become endangered not at the instance of politicians, to secure his own re-election. And we call the people of Oregon to witness that Senator Williams did not go to the length of declaring against any other railroad project which might become important to the State; he simply took his stand on the principle that Southern Oregon must have a railroad, and while he had power to prevent it he could not allow that section of the State to be deprived of railway advantages. Therefore he changed the terms of the bill so as to cause the branch road to come into Rogue river valley, and passed it in this form through the Senate. But Col Kelly is on the record against the Pengra road, those who drew up the pledge which he was required to sign omitted no feature which could add to his humiliation.

There were many Democratic members who did not believe that Col Kelly would under existing circumstances sign that paper. They did not conceive it possible that he would get down so low or eat dirt with such amazing readiness. Consequently they agreed to support him in case he would subscribe to it, never dreaming that the man would sacrifice so much to get the place of which he has been in pursuit so long. But to their disappointment and disgust he gave the pledge, and gave it with a humble servility which indicated that he would pledge anything else that might be asked, provided only he could be elected. We venture to say there is no man in his party among those who competed with him for the position who would not have spurned an election on such conditions and under such circumstances.

And such is the final denouement of all that Col Kelly and his party have said about "Holladay's monopoly," the Humboldt and Rogue river land grant, the great advantage of the proposed Pengra road as a "competing line," and Williams' effort at the instance of Holladay, to sell the railroad interests of the State by providing for this branch through Southern Oregon. Kelly and his party should no longer be able to hold up their heads. Even the Herald is abashed and almost confounded. Talk about a single monopoly for Oregon now will you! Talk about competing lines and denounce the Republican party for being devoted to the interests of one man and opposed to every proposition that can conflict with his interests! Where are you now anti monopoly Democracy?

Even the Herald, which usually swallows without winking everything labeled Democracy, is sick over the election of Col Kelly on the pledges he has given. So the Herald in its disgust says: "If his election had been without exacting any pledges as regards particular railroad interests it would have given the most unqualified satisfaction to the party at large." Ah yes! But then he could not be elected without the pledge. [illegible] Mr Holladay wouldn't allow it. So Col Kelly was brought to terms and sacrificed his manhood to become a Senator.

Of course the Legislature now sitting at Salem could not let the present opportunity pass without an attempt to insult the illustrious soldier now in Oregon whom the whole Republic honors. To let this opportunity slip would not be Democratic. Therefore General Sherman is vilified in the genuine secession repudiation Democratic style. What do the better and more patriotic class of Democrats think of this? Are they not proud of the State government they helped to put in power?

That document which Col Kelly signed is simply a bill of sale of the Senator to Mr Holladay. It is complete and perfect in all its parts except that the consideration is not given. But from the tremendous stories the Democracy have heretofore told about Ben Holladay's money we are entitled to judge that the figure was pretty high. Besides, Kelly surely would not have promised to do everything Holladay wants and to fight all his enemies unless he re[illegible] fat pay.

Col Kelly we are told was willing enough [illegible] given an [illegible] anxious [illegible] the Senate but [illegible] made public. But it was not so. Mr Holladay [illegible] working with him [illegible] public [illegible] Kelly [illegible] his bidding.

Holladay's Senator Kelly will probably be down from Salem soon. A grand reception will of course be tendered him. We nominate Mr William S Ladd as master of ceremonies for the occasion and marshal of the day. Perhaps our citizens will see him out on a big horse barging through the streets at the head of a procession [illegible] celebrate the election of Col Kelly on a pledge to use all his power in favor of the southern branch railroad according to Williams amendment and to go against the Pengra land grant bill. Strange things do occasionally occur in politics.

Opposition to Senator Williams has been based on the allegation that he is pledged to Ben Holladay's interests. This has never been proved because it is unfounded. But it can be proved by a piece of writing to which Col Kelly's signature is attached that the Democrats have elected a Senator who is pledged in the most positive way to Ben Holladay's interests. Who wears the Holladay collar now?

The Democratic party always makes a great noise against Ben Holladay but he invariably gets what he wants out of every Democratic Legislature.

FROM THE STATE CAPITAL

FROM OUR OWN CORRESPONDENT

SALEM, Tuesday Sept. 20, 1870

THE VANITY OF PROPHESYING

Now, how vain are all the hopes of man! And how are all our prophesyings come to naught! Here have we all been for many weeks yea for many months soothsaying against Mr Kelly and now he is chosen to wear good clothes and to sit in high places. I had but posted my letter last evening in which there were some most plausible speculations showing how much Kelly couldn't bet on his election, when the Democratic caucus broke up with a whoop de doodle doo for Kelly and I was struck almost deaf dumb and blind with the information that he had just received the nomination by forty-two votes—all there were in the caucus—and that he would have got more votes had there been any more Democrats in the Legislature. My first impression was that Mr Kelly had a pretty good show to be Senator and I must confess that subsequent events have served to confirm that impression. Sagacious wasn't I?

Well the election took place to-day at noon—each House voting in its own hall. As the proceedings inform you he received every Democratic vote—fourteen in the Senate and twenty eight in the House, total forty two, a majority of sixteen of all the votes cast. Mr Fershbaker, Republican Senator from Coos and Curry, was absent on account of illness. The Republican members of both Houses voted for Judge Williams. There was no excitement and but a small auditory in the Senate. The vote was taken with as little apparent interest as upon a motion to adjourn. There was no buzz nor demonstration of any kind in the lobby or on the floor of the Senate and the President after declaring the vote, proceeded at once with the regular order of business. In the House the proceedings were similar but there was a much larger lobby. Not much other business was transacted in either House. The Democracy pretty generally took themselves to congratulations and whisky straight and to-night quite a number of them are able to buy an indefinite total of railroads and wouldn't give a cent to exchange positions with the King of Prussia or any other man. Such is the cheering quality of the natural Democratic beverage.

HOW KELLY GOT IT

Affidavits you know are the strong suit of the Democracy. Certificates answer the purpose passably well where an affidavit can't be had to order. Well Kelly understanding the convincing force upon the Democratic mind of an affidavit sent into the caucus a document of that nature wherein he pledged himself most solemnly to support the railroad scheme for Southern Oregon. That fetched several of the Southern Democrats and then Fay as a candidate had to weaken. Having succeeded in getting Mr Kelly bound hand and foot to the railroad policy of Senator Williams he retired gracefully from the field leaving Kelly a race without a competitor. The affidavit dodge was one of the shrewdest acts of Kelly's life.

A G[illegible] BOARD FOR KELLY

It will not be forgotten that the last week or two of the last campaign was fought by the Democrats on the issue raised by the "capitalists so called against Senator Williams' amendment to the Central Pacific Branch Railroad bill. Kelly owes his success in that campaign to the furore that was raised against Senator Williams on that question. To show, however, how things will sometimes go back I ask your attention to the resolution introduced in the Senate this morning by Mr Fay instructing our Senators and Representative to support in Congress, the said railroad bill with the Williams amendment attached. The resolution was adopted in the Senate just before the Senatorial election and in the House just after. So the Democratic Legislature the members of which were chosen on account of their hostility to Senator Williams has instructed their Senator elect to not only step into Senator Williams' shoes but to adopt and carry out his policy. This, after all is a complete justification of Mr Williams' official conduct in that behalf all the more gratifying that it has been forced from men who hate him most cordially. Kelly goes to the United States with Williams' guide-board pinned to his back.

THE DEMOCRACY JUBILATE

This afternoon the common belonging to the State has been banged numerously in honor of the new Senator. That gentleman has endured, the while, marks of esteem and friendship of the most touching character to an extent which must have amazed him if it did not disgust. Buzzards and inglorious eagle birds never swarmed thicker nor more demonstratively around a carrion feast.

AN EMIGRATION TAKES PLACE

The great agony being over the mountain having been in labor and brought forth its mouse the people who came to see the show have begun to migrate. They have been going this afternoon in all directions and in all sorts of conveyances. Many who did not see the great banker while he was here have gone to Portland and you will doubtless hear about two hundred and fifty different carpet baggers tell great whopping tales of the bitter but glorious fight they fought each for Kelly and how he could never have got through had they not each sacrificed all personal considerations to visit the Capital and to exercise each man his acknowledged influence. By to-morrow evening Salem will be [illegible] a deserted village.

MISCELLANEOUS

Mr Fay introduced in the Senate to-day a bill to provide a uniform system of common schools. It creates a State Superintendent separating the duties of that office from the office of Governor. The salary proposed $1,500 per annum is too small however and will fail to secure the services of a competent man. The salary of an office which will necessarily occupy the entire time of the incumbent, as will the duties of this, should be liberal—enough to afford the officer support and to cheer him to the most active industry.

Gen E L Applegate delivers an address this evening at the M E Church before the Congressional Temperance Society. It is understood notwithstanding Mr Fay's amendment in the Senate yesterday that Mr Hendershott will not make any remarks.

Castello's Overland Circus arrived to-day and plays to-night. The Legislature not being in session this evening it is expected to draw well.

Profitable Figures

[illegible] months [illegible] parties to make their [illegible] the other [illegible] of the Republican party than its alleged failure to [illegible] the debt [illegible] refutes all their allegations on this score. THE ORDER OF THE EASTERN STAR.—Whilst fully endorsing the idea advanced by a prominent Eastern Masonic journal that it is not strictly within the bounds of propriety for a daily political journal to have a Masonic Department, yet we consider it perfectly proper to note from time to time matters of general interest to the fraternity which cannot be reached otherwise. Hence we have been persuaded to make some allusion to the Order of the Eastern Star which is just at this time attracting considerable notice in this State. In California particularly since the sentiments of Past Grand Orator Pixley as expressed in his remarkable oration before the Grand Lodge which was so well pleased with them as to order it printed and adopted in their report, the Order of the Eastern Star has received much encouragement. The Masonic Mirror says one of the great landmarks of the Masonic Fraternity and which must forever remain unalterable is, that woman cannot enter the sacred pale of a Masonic Lodge and be made a Mason. There are many reasons for this which it is unnecessary for us to mention. The origin of this landmark is derived from the Jewish laws and regulations in the worship of the Deity and the doctrines of their faith. Only the men could become priests, and as the Abrahamic Covenant could only be entered into and a ceremonial performed and the distinctive mark of their faith be preserved and perpetuated by the sons of Israel who were the chosen people of God, so the Hebrew women could be partakers and enjoy the blessings and privileges of the Covenant made between Jehovah and Abraham only by adoption. And adoptive Freemasonry in various forms has existed for more than a century and a half. In America various side degrees as they are termed have been practised from time to time in rival and conferred upon Mason's wives and daughters. But this broken system of side degrees as it is termed has had no regular head or organization to give unity or system to its action for co-operative movement as an order, or to render it practical and efficient in the dispensing of Masonic relief and charity until the revival and remodeling of the Order of the Eastern Star which was established in this country in 1[illegible] and which has taken the place of these others. The success of the Order therefore corresponds to its beneficence and usefulness with the extent of Freemasonry. Its obligations are based upon the honor of the female sex and framed upon the principles of equality and Justice that what ever benefits are due by the Masonic Fraternity to the wives, widows and daughters and sisters of Masons correspond ng benefits are due from them to the members of the Masonic Fraternity, while only ties of the closest consanguinity will admit any lady to the order and who are ready entitled to the protection, shelter, support and charity of every Mason.

The only persons who are entitled to become members of the Order of the Eastern Star are: first, Master Masons in good standing; second, the Wives of Master Masons in good standing; third, Widows of Master Masons who died in good standing; fourth, the Sisters; fifth, the Daughters; and sixth the Mothers of Master Masons in good standing.

The theory of the Order of the Eastern Star is founded upon the [illegible] [illegible] illustrating so many [illegible] virtues are selected and placed under [illegible] and nowhere in history have we more brilliant examples than in the five characters of the [illegible] the lectures of the Order [illegible] brethren who look [illegible] [illegible]

CITY.

Meeting of the Common Council.—The regular meeting of the Common Council was held at the Council Chamber at the usual hour last evening; Mayor Goldsmith presiding.

The following members were present: Messrs Gargle, Cree, Hallock, Lewis and Moffett. The minutes of the last meeting were read and approved.

Permission to use a portion of Front street, between Pine and Ash streets, was granted with proper restrictions, upon application.

Petition of J. N. Perlot for change of grade of Fifth street, crossing F and G streets, was referred.

Petition to make improvements in various parts of the city was granted to parties as follows: [illegible], George Hartman, P. Landlis, M. [illegible], Millard & Van Schuyver, H. C. [illegible] Quackenbosh, Lyon & Braden, and [illegible].

Remonstrance signed by Josiah Failing, H. [illegible] W. H. Watkins and others, representing $[illegible], against the improvement of Taylor street from First to Seventh streets, unless the [illegible] was continued to Twelfth street, was referred to the Committee on Streets and Public Property.

The remonstrance was five days too late and therefore will be made as proposed.—Rep.

The City Marshal, by a communication which was read and referred to the Committee on Streets and Public Property, called the attention of the Council to the old, tumble down City Jail, as being in a very particular unsafe for the confinement of prisoners.

A communication from the Chief Engineer, recommending the purchase of certain supplies for the use of the department was received and referred to the Committee on Fire and Water.

Warrants were ordered in payment of claims against the city as follows: In favor of C. H. [illegible], $2 50; P. Hornung, $2 50; H. L. Pit[tock], $[illegible]; H. McDonald, $24; E. Milwain, $[illegible].

Warrants were also ordered in favor of the following for work performed on streets being: [...] R. D. Hutchinson, Main street fund, [...]; [...], Front and South Front street fund, $217 50; P. Conboy, Main street fund, $[illegible]; W. H. Butts, Third and South Second fund, $539 93; J. G. Maughan, [Second] street fund, $380 62; J. C. Rhodes, grading [...] on Salmon street, $115 25.

An ordinance to provide for quieting title to lots in [block]s, between Salmon and Mill streets, and the east half of blocks 53 and 54, upon payment of the sum of $6,400 therefor, which includes [...]'s fees, recording, etc., passed.

An ordinance making an appropriation of [money] from the Treasury for the purposes above [named], passed.

An ordinance extending the time for the completion of the College street improvement to November 1st, passed.

An ordinance providing for the grading and [improving of] Taylor street, from First street to [...], to be completed November 1, 1870; [passed].

An ordinance authorizing the sale of a portion of [block] 14 to Ira Goodenough, was introduced.

[A resolution] adopting the report of the City [Surveyor in the] matter of the proposed extension [of ...] passed.

[A resolution] was adopted authorizing the payment of $[...] to A. H. Reynolds, to reimburse [him for taxes] paid on a double assessment, by [mistake].

[Council] adjourned.

[The Order of] the Eastern Star.—Whilst [we do not endorse] the idea advanced by a prominent [Masonic] journal that it is not strictly [within] the bounds of propriety for a daily political [paper to] have a "Masonic Department," [we consider] it perfectly proper to note [from time to] time matters of general interest to [the Craft], which cannot be reached otherwise; [and we have] been persuaded to make some allusion to the Order of the Eastern Star, which is, [at the present] time, attracting considerable notice in [this State and in] California, particularly, since the [visit of] Past Grand Orator Pixley, as expressed in his remarkable oration before the [Grand Lodge], which was so well pleased with [it that it] printed and adopted in their [proceedings]. [The Order] of the Eastern Star has received [...]. The Masonic Mirror says [...] members of the Masonic Fraternity [...] shall must forever remain unalterable [...] women cannot enter the sacred pale [of the] Lodge and be made a Mason. There [are many] reasons for this which it is unnecessary [to state]. The origin of this landmark [dates back] from the Jewish laws and regulations [...] of the Deity and the doctrines of [...]. Its obligations are based upon [...] the female sex, and framed upon [the principles] of Equality and Justice, [th]at whatever [is] due by the Masonic Fraternity [to] widows and daughters and sisters of [Masons, corres]ponding benefits are due from them [to the members] of the Masonic Fraternity," while [...] the closest consanguinity will admit [to] the Order, and who is not already entitled to protection, shelter, support and [...] Mason.

[The] persons who are entitled to become [members of the] Order of the Eastern Star are, [first, Master] Masons in good standing; second, [Wives of] Master Masons in good standing; [third, Widows] of Master Masons who died in [good standing]; fourth, the Sisters; fifth, the [Daughters; and] sixth the Mothers of Master Masons in good standing.

[The ritual] of the Order of the Eastern Star is [based] upon the Holy Writings. Five prominent characters, illustrating as many Masonic virtues, are selected, adopted and placed under [its] protection, and nowhere in history [can be found more] brilliant examples than in the five [characters il]lustrated in the lectures of the Order [of the] Eastern Star. The Mirror says, in conclusion: "To our bachelor brethren who look [with a jealous] eye upon it we have this to say. [...] up courage to once enter the Order of the Eastern Star, (which may be properly [termed the] Woman's Court of Temple,") we will [venture the] assertion that you will soon emulate [...] son of Solomon and not long continue [...] with cold feet, but be willing to [measure] measures of barley to your future [...] than Naomi received from the [...] Ruth."

[Hospita]l Required.—There is need of a City [Hospital] in Portland. At present whenever an [accident] happens to an unknown man, as was the [case yester]day, he is taken to the Court House [and placed] in the jailor's keeping. Of course [he] would be refused admission there on the [score] of humanity—but this is becoming a [source of] some inconvenience to the officer of the [jail]. The hotels of this city would recom[mend the] establishing of a city hospital.

[Acci]dent.—A man named John McCormick, [from] Suisun valley, California, yesterday [fell at] Couch's wharf and was injured very [badly]. No one knew who he was, and after being [found] he was taken to the jailer's department [in] the Court House, by officer Tennant, [where] medical aid was provided as quickly as possible. [The at]tending physician pronounces it a [...] case. The principal injuries were [on the] head.

[Return]ed.—George Venable Smith, formerly [of this] city, a promising young attorney, returned [to this] place, and will resume practice, to reside permanently in Oregon. Mr. Smith has [broad ideas] of matters on this coast which, [if] placed in the light of a contrast as between [Oregon] and California, may be made serviceable [to the] public, and we hope he will consider the [propriety of] giving them to the public at some [future day].

[Accident.]—A man named Green was hurt by [a fall] on the Sixth street grade, above [...] street, last evening. He will be about [in a] few days, his friends say.

Oro Fino Theatre.—The famous play of "Fernande," translated from the French expressly for Miss Sallie Hinckley, and which has met with such unbounded success in Eastern cities and San Francisco, was performed for the first time in this city at Oro Fino Theatre last evening to a crowded audience. The principal characters were personated by Miss Hinckley, Misses Annie and Minnie Pixley, Miss Ingles, Mr. Bates, Mr. Vinson and Mr. Melville. The same play will be enacted this evening.

Salutes.—When the Oriflamme left San Francisco, the guns at the Presidio fired a salute in honor of General Sherman. The same occurred in passing Fort Point, and also at Cape Disappointment and Fort Stevens. The citizens at Astoria also fired a salute when the steamer landed there, and the rejoicings and congratulations were general among the people. The salute here was fired yesterday morning.

Brief Mention.—Three young men from this city, captured a deer by a hand to hand fight a few days since.

The Whistler and Live Yankee have both gone to sea with full cargoes for San Francisco.

A number of new works have just been added to the Portland Library.

The St. Charles Hotel, in this city, is supplied with a patent annunciator.

Railroad Progress.—The iron has been laid on the Oregon and California Railroad to a point within half a mile of the Fair Grounds, near Salem. The locomotive James B. Stephens, used in the construction at the front, is now heard in Salem, which is cheering to the denizens of the capital.

Police Court.—A colored man named McCarty, arrested for assaulting a Chinaman, was arraigned yesterday, but his case was continued. George Bernhard, for larceny, was convicted and sentenced to imprisonment for 60 days.

Display of Flags.—The display of flags on the vessels in port yesterday, in honor of General Sherman was very attractive. A large number of flags were also displayed in various parts of the city.

Auction Sale.—At the auction sale held by Mr. Richardson yesterday, block 305 in Aiken's addition to East Portland was sold for $825.

Lecture.—The lecture on the Holy Land, by Rabbi Sneersohn, will be delivered this evening at Synagogue Beth Israel.

CURRENT NOTES.

The whaling business of late years has not been overly prosperous, and the result is that a great many vessels have been withdrawn from it this season.

A lucky laborer, named Murray, while engaged in excavating upon the site of the old Fountain Hotel, Baltimore, a short time since, came upon a tin box, which was found to contain $2,000 in gold coins.

THE OREGON LEGISLATURE.

Sixth Biennial Session

SENATE—Morning Session.

Salem, Wednesday Sept. 21, 1870.

The Senate was called to order at 10 A. M. by President Fay, and all the members were recorded as present except Messrs. Stout and Powell, absent on leave. Prayer was offered by Rev. Josh Powell of the Baptist Church, Salem. The Journal of yesterday was read and approved.

MEMORIAL.

Mr. Baldwin presented a memorial from W. B. Laswell and others asking a remission of taxes due the State from Grant county, on account of the destruction by fire of the county buildings, and the loss of the principal revenue to the county by failure to collect the tax on Chinamen. Referred to the Committee on Ways and Means.

At the request of Mr. Trevitt, leave of absence was granted Messrs. Stout and Powell, Senators from Multnomah county, until Monday next.

BILLS.

President Fay gave notice of a bill to aid in constructing a wagon road from Rogue river, in Jackson county, to a point in Baker county. Also a bill regulating encl[o]sures. And the President also introduced a Senate resolution asking information from the Governor concerning public lands that have been sold, or that now belong to the State. The inquiry would necessitate a report in detail of all sales and locations by the State officials. On motion of Baldwin, the resolution was adopted.

JOINT CONVENTION.

A message was received from the House inviting by a joint resolution the Senate to meet in the hall of the House at 12 M. in joint convention, to declare the vote for United States Senator. On motion of Mr. Burch, the Senate concurred in the House joint resolution.

RATE OF INTEREST BILLS.

Mr. Baldwin introduced Bill No. 13 to amend section 1 of chapter 24, title 5, leaving the rate of interest 10 per cent. in all cases where no rate is specified, but allowing 2 instead of 1 per cent per month as the limit of agreement between parties.

The President introduced S. Bill No. 14, regulating roads and highways.

Mr. Cornelius introduced S. Bill No. 15—a bill to amend the general law relating to assessments. It exempts all property owned by scientific, religious or literary sects from taxation.

Mr. Trevitt introduced S. Bill No. 16, to aid in constructing a State wagon road from the mouth of Sandy river, in Multnomah county, on the south side of the Columbia river to Dalles city, in Wasco county.

Mr. Cochran introduced S. Bill No. 17, to amend the law passed in 1862, relating to private corporations, giving corporations in the proposed amendment a right to lay pipes, in addition to privileges before granted by law.

BENTON COUNTY CONTEST.

Mr. Cochran moved that the Senate go into Committee of the Whole on the Benton county contested election case.

Mr. Hendershott objected to considering the contested election in Committee of the Whole. He said the Committee on Elections was in a dilemma, for if the Senate resolved itself into a Committee of the Whole on the Benton county contest, all the Senators should be present at this time. There are several persons who have been summoned on the Yamhill contest at great detriment to themselves and cost to the State, awaiting the pleasure of the Committee to hear their testimony. He desired the case referred to a special committee.

Mr. Trevitt—The object of going into Committee of the Whole is to refer to a special committee.

The motion prevailed, and Senator Hendershott was called to the Chair.

Mr. Cornelius moved that the committee proceed to examine the testimony in the Benton county contest.

Mr. Burch thought Senators should be satisfied with the investigations of yesterday in committee. Several members were absent and others present, but asleep. Some desired to have attorneys to sum up the case. This, he thought, a committee would do more satisfactorily than attorneys.

President Fay said after hearing the remarks of Mr. Strahan, yesterday, he was prepared to vote without hearing any testimony, as he regarded imported as legal voters.

Mr. Cornelius thought it a foregone conclusion that this case would be referred to a select committee, yet that would not facilitate business. In Committee of the Whole, the Journal will not be encumbered with ayes and nays, as it would be in regular session. He was not asleep yesterday nor absent, but had heard about half the evidence and desired to hear the remainder. The Senator from Yamhill yesterday considered the action as unprecedented. If he will consult the record of the Senate since he has been a member, he will find that the Senate has invariably heard the evidence in contested cases where the legality of votes was questioned.

Mr. Cochran was anxious to hear these little funny things so long as they were funny, referring to the evidence read yesterday, but he was for giving the Committee on Elections the time necessary to transact the business now before them, the Chairman having begged to be excused for that purpose. He stated that while he was not asleep others appeared sleepy and were not paying much attention to the evidence.

Mr. Burch—About one-fourth, as I am informed by one of the contestants.

Mr. Mosher, referring to the remarks of the Senator from Washington county as to buncombe, said that was not his object, but to get through the business as quick as possible. He would be guided by the report of the committee, as the Senate would by a report from the Judiciary Committee, without desiring to read the evidence or hear it before the Senate.

The President was not disposed to allow the committee to judge matters of fact for him as he would a Judiciary Committee to which some legal questions had been submitted for investigation; yet the committee might collate the testimony and present it with their recommendation.

Mr. Witham—The reason I object to referring to a special committee is that the Senate has already heard the evidence of the contestant, and I think it is fair that Senators should hear mine.

The President inquired how much of contestant's evidence had been read.

Mr. Burch—About one-half. Yesterday I tried to sum up the testimony, but gave it up in disgust.

The committee rose and reported the case back to the Senate, recommending a reference to a special committee.

The report was adopted by a strict party vote, all the Democrats voting to refer to a special committee, and all the Republicans voting to consider the case in Committee of the Whole.

Mr. Burch desired to be excused from serving on the committee, as he could not attend here and in the committee room on account of ill health.

Mr. Witham moved to refer to a committee of five, which was lost.

Mr. Holtzclaw moved to refer to a committee of three.

Mr. Cochran moved to amend by refering to a committee of one.

The amendment was lost, and the case was refered to a committee of three.

Mr. Holtzclaw was excused from serving on the committee as he was a member of the Committee on Elections.

Mr. Cochran suggested Mr. Hoult, who asked to be excused on the same grounds that a court would excuse a juror. He lived close to the line and knew more about the case than might be proper for a member of the committee.

The President—It is evident the Senate will have to adopt the motion of the Senator from Washington, and appoint a committee of one if members all ask to be excused. It will require a valid excuse hereafter.

Baldwin, Llewallan and Brown, of Marion, were appointed.

Mr. Baldwin—I am already on more committees than any other member.

The President—That is the most vital reason yet offered, and I will excuse the Senator and appoint the Senator from Baker.

On motion of Mr. Baldwin the committee was required to collate the testimony and report with their recommendations.

Mr. Holtzclaw in the Chair.

SECOND READING OF BILLS.

S. B. No. 7, to tax unnaturalized foreigners was taken up, and Mr. President moved to suspend the rules and read by title. Fourteen members—all that were present—voted for the motion.

The Chair declared the motion lost, as there was not a quorum for business present. Members coming in Mr. Trevitt renewed the motion to read by title, which carried—ayes, 17; noes, 9.

Mr. Cochran moved to refer to the committee on Federal Relations.

Mr. Holtzclaw moved an amendment to refer to the committee on Judiciary, which was adopted.

Mr. Cornelius offered a resolution fixing the time for convening the Senate at 10 A. M. and 2 P. M., which was adopted.

S. B. No. 8, to amend fees of officers came up for a second reading.

Mr. Mosher understood this to be a fee bill passed at the last session but failing to take effect for want of signatures of proper officers and thought it unnecessary to take up the time of the Senate reading in full. He therefore moved to suspend the rules and read by title, which motion prevailed—ayes, 18, noes, none.

On motion of Mr. Thompson, the bill was referred to Committee on Counties.

S. B. No 10, to tax stock of National Bank was read a second time. On motion of Mr. Cornelius it was referred to committee on Corporations.

The hour having arrived the Senate in a body went to the hall of the House, where the vote for U. S. Senator was counted and announced, after which, on returning to their Chamber, the Senate adjourned until 2 P. M.

Afternoon Session.

There was no business done in the Senate except the announcement that the Speaker of the House had signed [...] Resolutions, and the signing by the President of Senate Resolutions No. 1, 2, 3 and 6.

Adjourned until to-morrow at 10 A. M.

HOUSE—Morning Session.

Salem, Sept. 21, 1870.

The House was called to order at 10 o'clock A. M. by the Speaker.

The roll was called and all the members were recorded as present.

The Journal was read, corrected and approved.

Prayer was offered by Rev. Josh Powell.

LEGISLATIVE HALL—JOINT RULES.

A message from the Senate announced the adoption of a joint resolution, appointing a committee of three on the part of the Senate and five on the part of the House, to consider the expediency of leasing a convenient hall for the use of the Legislature.

Mr. Dorris moved to concur, and the motion prevailed.

The message also announced a resolution to print the joint rule, which was concurred in by the House.

COMMITTEES ANNOUNCED.

The Speaker announced as the additional members of the committee on Commerce, Messrs Savage and Olney, and as a committee to report in regard to the Insane Asylum, Messrs. Whiteaker, Alexander, Whalley and Hunter, and as the members of the joint committee to consider the propriety of abolishing the office of Adjutant General, Messrs. Porter and Caldwell.

PORTLAND LABOR EXCHANGE—VOTING.

Mr. Whalley presented a communication from a committee of the Board of Trustees of the Labor Exchange Association of Portland, giving an account of the workings of the Labor Exchange and the prospects of securing immigration to Oregon, and asking an appropriation to defray the expenses of the Exchange.

The reading of the petition was dispensed with, and it was referred to the committee on Commerce.

Mr. Amis offered the following:

Resolved, That in the trial of any contest of the seats of any members of this House the sitting members shall be precluded from voting upon any matter pertaining to delay in said case.

Messrs. Lockhart and Amis thought the standing rule sufficient.

Mr. Amis desired to have the matter decided, so that there might be no further question as to what is the meaning of rule [...].

Mr. Slater was [...] and he was not [...] any, and, of course, in any contest very partisan considerations [...] anxious [...] that the resolution [...] help the matter any. Instead [...] Nothing [...] against it, and perhaps nothing particularly [...] except that the rule would be [...] carried.

Mr. Hare [...] an amendment to the standing rule [...].

Mr. Kelly—So far as the amendment [...] we are concerned I want to say that we [...] lay this question [...] be decided as soon as possible.

The Speaker ruled [...] the resolution being [...] was in order.

Mr. Whalley raised the point of order [...] had already been [...] proper way to [...] deal at the time.

Mr. Dorris regarded the standing rule as [...] sufficient.

Mr. Amis—It is well known that this standing rule has caused considerable discussion, and it would get a decision from the House.

Mr. Helman—I wish to [...] a point [...] I will inquire whether a point of order is in order [...].

The Speaker ruled the point well taken, and the motion then [...] was [laid] upon the table.

GENERAL SHERMAN.

Mr. Davenport offered the following:

Whereas, Lieutenant General Sherman, [the hero of] Atlanta is expected soon to arrive in this State, therefore be it

Resolved, By the Legislative Assembly of the State of Oregon, that in remembrance of his great public services in the cause of Republican liberty, and for the preservation of the American Union, we do hereby extend to him a most cordial welcome, and respectfully invite him to visit the Capital at his convenience, sometime during the session of the Legislative Assembly.

Mr. Olney—I move to strike out the words "Hero of Atlanta," and to insert the words "the General of the Army of the United States."

Mr. Davenport—I do not think that would read well. Lieut. Sherman. The General, etc.

Mr. Olney—I do not see anything wrong in the title. The reason why we propose to do him honor is because he is the chief of military [...] of the United States, and not because he is the hero of any military achievement. There may be many of these distinguished Generals floating about the country, but we do not propose to honor them all in this way.

Mr. Lockhart—General Sherman is not a Lieut. General, but a full General.

Mr. Grant—I think the original resolution is nearer correct than any of the amendments. We find that the reference to the "hero of Atlanta" refers to the property destroyed down there, and I shall vote for the resolution just that way. Now, this gentleman from Clatsop (Mr. Olney) appears not to like the motion, and he wants to dodge the question. I honor the gentleman from Marion (Mr. Davenport), who is willing to stand by the record of this man who is the very man that burned those towns, injured the women and children down there, and favored the radical war. Therefore, sir, I will vote against the amendment of the gentleman from Clatsop, and give it a proper title.

Mr. Olney—I will withdraw my amendment.

Mr. Davenport—If it be true that General is the proper title, I will accept the amendment to that effect.

Mr. Amis—I have an amendment which I will offer to the original resolution. Immediately after the word "hero," to insert the words "who devastated indiscriminately the people of a large portion of our country against every usage of civil warfare during the late civil war."

Mr. Whiteaker—There seems to be a diversity of opinion in regard to the propriety, or not propriety exactly, but the language of the resolution. I would move that it be refered to the Committee on Military Affairs, so that they may amend it.

Mr. Olney—I wish to offer an amendment that may go along with the resolution. Insert after the "whereas" the following: "W. T. Sherman, General of the army of the United States." I offer this simply as the correct designation.

Mr. Alexander—I desire to offer an amendment if I can get the privilege.

Mr. Amis—I didn't hear any notice taken of my motion to amend.

The Speaker—The Chair didn't hear any second to it.

Mr. Amis—I am not aware that it requires any second to such a motion.

The Speaker—The Chair understands that no motion is in order without a second.

The Clerk read: "Whereas, Lieutenant General Sherman, the hero of Atlanta, who devastated indiscriminately the people of a large portion of our country, against every usage of civil warfare, during the late civil war, is expected soon to arrive in this State, therefore be it Resolved, by the Legislative Assembly of the State of Oregon, That in remembrance of his great public services in the cause of republican liberty, and for the preservation of the American Union, we do hereby most cordially welcome him to the State, and respectfully invite him to visit the capital at his convenience, some time during the present Session of the Legislative Assembly.

Mr. Alexander—Whose production is that, I would like to know. That is not the paper I sent to the desk. [Laughter.]

Mr. Dorris—There is a multiplicity of resolutions here, some designed to insult, and some to honor General Sherman. I therefore move to lay the whole on the table.

Mr. Grant—I further amend that motion, that we indefinitely postpone the whole subject.

The Speaker stated the question to be to indefinitely postpone.

Mr. Dorris raised the point of order that a motion to lay on the table takes precedence of a motion to postpone.

Mr. Lockhart—I desire to raise the point of order that a motion to refer takes precedence of either motion.

Mr. Grant—I insist that the vote be taken on my motion to indefinitely postpone. [Laughter.

The Speaker—Did the gentleman from Lane move to lay on the table for the present?

Mr. Dorris—Yes, for the present.

The Speaker—The Chair is of the opinion that the motion to refer to the Committee on Military Affairs takes precedence.

Mr. Dorris—Then I move to lay that motion on the table.

The Speaker stated the question to be on referring to the Military committee.

Mr. Lockhart—I move to amend by requiring the committee to report to-morrow.

Mr. Davenport—It will be seen from the rule that no motion takes precedence of a motion to lay on the table, except a motion to adjourn.

Mr. Whiteaker. If my friend from Lane (Mr. Dorris) had moved to lay my motion on the table he would have been strictly in order, but he did not do so. He moved to lay the resolution and amendments on the table.

Mr. Davenport—I would like to have the decision of the Chair as to whether the motion of the gentleman from Lane (Mr. Dorris) does not take the precedence of a motion to refer.

The Speaker—The Chair is of the opinion that the motion does not take precedence of the motion made by the gentleman from Lane (Mr. Whiteaker). The question is upon the motion to lay on the table.

Mr. Whiteaker. The amendment, Mr. Speaker, is to refer to the Committee on Military Affairs with instructions to report to-morrow morning.

The motion prevailed.

NOTICE OF BILLS.

Mr. Whalley gave notice of a bill for the purchase and distribution of a certain number of volumes of the decisions of the District and Circuit Courts of the United States for the district of Oregon, to be published by M. P. Deady; also of a bill to disincorporate the trustees of Trinity church, and to dispose of the funds thereof.

Mr. Helm gave notice of a bill to amend the law relative to testimony; also a bill to pay H. F. Bonham one year's salary as Territorial and State Librarian.

Mr. Alexander gave notice of a bill for the relief of Dodge.

SECOND READING OF BILLS.

H. B. No. 6, a bill to separate the office of County Recorder from the office of Clerk of the Circuit Court in the county of Lane. The bill was read and referred to the Judiciary Committee.

H. B. No. 11, an Act to amend Section 2 of Chapter 15 of the General Laws of Oregon, was referred to the Judiciary Committee.

After a recess the House was called to order at 11 55.

CANVASSING THE VOTE FOR SENATOR.

At 12 o'clock M. the members of the Senate entered the Chamber of the House of Representatives, and the Joint Convention was called to order.

President Fay—The Joint Convention is assembled for the purpose of announcing the vote of the two Houses for U. S. Senator.

The Chief Clerks of the two Houses read the minutes of the balloting for U. S. Senator yesterday.

Mr. Whiteaker—I now move that this Convention do now proceed to count and declare the vote cast for U. S. Senator, as prescribed by law.

The motion prevailed.

The President. I observe that one of the candidates for U. S. Senator is present, and I suggest that he be invited to take a seat within the bar of this House.

Mr. Lord—I move that the candidate present be invited to occupy a seat within the Bar of the House.

The President—No objection being made the candidate present will be invited within the Bar of the House.

The President—It appears from the Official Journal of the Senate that James K. Kelly received at the election held on yesterday, 14 votes for United States Senator, and George H. Williams received 7 votes for the same office—Mr. Kelly received a majority of 7 in the Senate. It also appears from the Journal of the House that J. K. Kelly received 25 votes and George H. Williams 18 votes for U. S. Senator—a majority of 7 votes for Mr. Kelly. It appears from the records that James K. Kelly, of Multnomah county, has received a majority of votes in either House, and I, therefore, declare him duly elected U. S. Senator from the State of Oregon for the term of six years from the 4th of March, 1871. (Applause.)

Mr. Whiteaker—I move that this Convention dissolve. The motion prevailed at 12 1/2.

After the withdrawal of the Senate the House adjourned.

The Speaker informally announced that he had received a telegraphic dispatch from Mayor Goldsmith, of Portland, inviting the members of the Legislature to attend the reception of Gen. Sherman to-morrow evening. Also, that a Sociable would be given by the ladies of the Christian Church at the Opera House this evening.

Afternoon Session

GENERAL SHERMAN'S RECEPTION.

Mr. O'Regan. Having the honor to be a member of this House from Multnomah county, I wish to make a motion as to whether an invitation was given to the members of the Legislature to attend the reception of Gen. Sherman.

The Speaker. I announced the fact at noon.

Mr. O'Regan. That was not official.

The Speaker—A dispatch was laid upon my desk inviting the members of the Legislature to attend the reception to be given to Gen. Sherman.

Mr. O'Regan. I move that the dispatch be answered.

Mr. Helm. A question might arise as to what the answer should be. Judging from the reports of the speeches given in the newspapers, it seems that General Sherman has already arrived in Portland, so that we will not have an opportunity to attend his reception.

Mr. O'Regan. I do not suppose that the answer will be satisfactory to me, but notwithstanding that, I want to see the invitation acknowledged. The matter took place last night, and I think that it is the duty of this House to answer the dispatch anyhow. It is a courtesy due from the gentlemen, to another, a courtesy that is due from this body to Gen. Sherman and the Mayor of Portland.

Mr. Fulton—Please read the notice. I have not heard it yet.

The Speaker—I announced it this morning. It is a matter that I do not regard as concerning the particularly. It is simply a request directed to the Senate and House of Representatives inviting the members of both bodies to attend the reception of General Sherman this evening.

Mr. Fulton. Well, if that is all, it might be well to give an answer, but it might be well also to consider that the Legislature has nothing else to do besides running around the country to see such men as General Sherman. I think we had better talk about the civil laws of man, or providing something for the blind and deaf and dumb, and other matters, without bothering ourselves with General Sherman. The law of the land requires him to do his duty, and we have our seats to fill as he has his. As to Mr. Kelly intimated last night, one man is nothing—the great American people is everything. So far as to General Sherman is concerned let him attend to his own business and we will attend to ours.

The Speaker. I have the dispatch in my hand and I will read it.

Portland Sept. 20 1870. To the President and Speaker of the House of Representatives. The Honorable members of the Legislature are respectfully invited to participate in the reception of Gen. Sherman to-morrow evening. [Signed] [GOL]DSMITH Mayor.

I did not regard it of much importance, and for that reason did not make a formal announcement of it.

Mr. Fulton. I would move that simply to inform him that we are busy attending to our own business. [Laughter.

Mr. Elkins. I suppose the proper way to do would be for the Speaker to inform Mr. Goldsmith that we have received the dispatch.

Mr. Grant—I will simply amend the motion in this way, the Speaker to inform Mr. Goldsmith that we received the dispatch too late and are too busy anyhow to come.

The Speaker—The Chair does not propose to run around and pay for dispatches to anybody.

Mr. Helman—I move to lay the motion on the table. The motion prevailed.

BILLS INTRODUCED.

The following bills were introduced, read first time and disposed of as indicated.

By Mr. Hare—An act to amend an act relating to the assessment and collection of tax, approved October 20, 1868. Ordered printed.

By Mr. Olney. An act for the protection of salmon fisheries. The bill prohibits the master of any vessel from using glass, seins or nets. A penalty of $50 fine and damages. Ordered printed.

By Mr. Amis. An Act to prevent the taking and killing of game during certain seasons of the year. It prevents the killing of grouse, pheasants and ducks during the months of April, May and June, also female deer during the months of December, January, February, March, April, May, June and July, and also prohibits the taking of brook, or mountain trout otherwise than by hook and line. Ordered printed.

Mr. Whalley—An Act to disincorporate the Trustees of Trinity School and to provide for the transfer of the property and funds thereof.

Also an Act relating to the purchase and sale of the report of the decisions of the District and Circuit Court of the U. S. for the District of Oregon, Ordered printed.

The Speaker announced Messrs. McCoy, O'Regan, Thompson, Loughlin and Drain as the committee on the table.

THE CHINESE CUE BILL.

Mr. Amis—On yesterday I attempted to get House bill No. 3, to prevent caste, off the table, but was informed that it should be considered to-day. I now move to take it from the table.

The motion prevailed and the bill with the amendments recommended by the special committee fixing the penalty were read for information.

A long discussion ensued which was participated in by Messrs. Amis, Fulton, Dunbar, Olney, Whalley, Davenport, and others. Mr. Amis insisted that he was sincere in regard to the matter and made a long speech in the course of which he asserted that he had laid the measure before some of the best legal minds of this State who concurred with him that there was nothing in the bill which could infringe upon any existing law of the land. He objected to several amendments which were offered by Republican members, such as striking out the word "male" so that the law would apply to female Celestials as well as their lords, offered by Mr. Dunbar, and another by Mr. Olney to insert the words "who shall wear loose trowsers, blouses or wooden shoes, or wear his shirt outside of his pants." He considered these amendments were offered in order to ridicule his bill out of the House, which he declared should never be done, and appealed to his party brethren to sustain him. Finally, the bill was placed upon the table, when a motion to reconsider being lost, the Speaker decided the bill killed.

The House then adjourned.

A Chapter of Facts.

Space is valuable in a newspaper, and it is therefore proposed in this advertisement to condense a variety of facts, important to the public, into a small compass. These facts refer to Hostetter's Stomach Bitters—what that celebrated medicine is, and what it will do. In the first place then, the article is a stimulant, tonic and alterative, consisting of a combination of absolutely pure spirituous agent with the most valuable medicinal vegetable substances that Botanic research has placed at the disposal of the chemist and the physician. These ingredients are compounded with great care, and in such proportions as to produce a preparation which invigorates without exciting the general system and tones, regulates and controls the stomach, the bowels, the liver and the minor secretive organs.

What this great restorative will do must be gathered from what it has done. The case of dyspepsia, or any other form of indigestion, in which it has been persistently administered without effecting a radical cure is yet to be heard from, and the same may be said of bilious disorders, intermittent fever, nervous affections, general debility, constipation, sick headache, mental despondency and the peculiar complaints and disabilities to which the feeble are subject. It purifies all the fluids of the body, including the blood and the gentle stimulus which it imparts to the nervous system is not succeeded by the slightest reaction. This is a chapter of facts which readers, for their own sake, should mark and remember.

THE GREAT CAPITULATION

DETAILS [illegible] INTERVIEW [illegible] BETWEEN NAPOLEON [illegible] AND BISMARCK [illegible]

[illegible] Sept [illegible] 1870

A [illegible] to the N Y [illegible] the [illegible] Sedan the [illegible] detailed account of the capitulation and interviews between the Emperor, King, and Count Bismarck

A DISTINGUISHED [illegible]

HEADQUARTERS [illegible] Sept 3 Yesterday morning [illegible] a carriage containing four French officers drove out from Sedan, and came into the German lines The carriage was accompanied by three officers on horseback [illegible] other escort and when it had arrived among the Germans one of the occupants put his head out and asked them in their own language where was Count Bismarck. He must be seen [illegible] The Germans said that Donchery was the most likely spot in which to find the Count, though no one knew exactly his whereabouts Forward then to Donchery The carriage dashed away and many a curious glance was cast after it The short drive was afterward known to be a great historic event Count Bismarck may live all the years that a courteous Arab could wish him and never have such another visitor in the early morning

NAPOLEON AND BISMARCK'S INTERVIEW

They met at a small house outside the town, on the left bank of the Meuse, in a house where, oddly enough the inmates being from Luxembourg, spoke both French and German. On his first arrival the Emperor went inside. But it was thought that they could sit more comfortably out in the open air It was a delightfully fine fresh morning So chairs were placed for them and they sat talking for a couple of hours. The Emperor wore the undress uniform [illegible] with but one decoration on his breast and with the usual kepi soldier's cap of the French service Count Bismarck wa[illegible] his [illegible] cuirassier's undress uniform with a flat cap and long boots If you can picture them sitting outside the small house with the staff officers present lying on the patch of grass not far off, and the tall poplar trees flanking the chaussee as far as it can be seen you will realize this striking episode

NAPOLEON DOES NOT SURRENDER FRANCE

Napoleon appeared in better health than last year, but anxious and careworn He asked to see King William, and said he placed himself at His Majesty's disposition As to politics, he avoided all show of dealing in any while a prisoner with the fate of France He surrendered with his army, but could not yield one jot politically on behalf of the French people, or of the Government of the Empress Regent

BISMARCK WANTS COMPLETE SURRENDER

Count Bismarck, in his turn placed before Napoleon the fact that this surrender of Sedan must be complete—I had well nigh said must be unconditional but that would be going too far It must be a complete surrender, because the French were not in a position to ask better terms

The Emperor much desired to see King William before the articles of capitulation were signed This, however the King had thought it better both for himself and his illustrious prisoner to refuse They could not so well arrange a hard bargain as could their ministers and generals In everything personal the King was resolved to treat the Emperor with consideration but as to the question of the terms to be granted that was another matter

NAPOLEON SEEKS A RETIRED CHATEAU

When Napoleon and Bismarck had chatted for a little while mostly of indifferent things this long-to-be-remembered interview beside the Meuse was brought to an end The Count went to prepare his own quarters in Donchery for the Emperor's reception, but it was afterward decided that a snug chateau near Frenois would be more convenient, as Napoleon wished to be as little seen by the people as possible Thither he was then escorted by a detachment of the First Prussian cuirassiers, and there he remained while Gens De Wimpffen and Von Moltke discussed the terms of the surrender of Sedan. There was a hard bargain to drive, but proportionate power of driving it.

GERMAN PRECAUTIONS

Not an inch of their past gains had been neglected by the Germans Masses of infantry were posted on every line of approach to the town Guns were still pointed against the French, and a numerous body of cavalry was ready to sweep down upon any stragglers who should perchance get through in the confusion of a sortie

The King had declared that he should reopen fire if the capitulation were not signed by noon of the 2d inst. It was altogether a desperate case a thorough checkmate of a fine but disheartened army. De Wimpffen was convinced of this when Von Moltke pointed out to him how carefully he had prepared his plans. Sadly and reluctantly the French General agreed to sign as the only thing to be done

THE CONDITIONS

The whole army, including the Emperor, were to be considered prisoners of war There was indeed a clause by which the officers were to be at liberty to return home on their written promise not to serve against Prussia or her allies during the present contest but they were to take their men safely into Germany and hand them safely over to Germany Arms, horses, artillery and war material of all kinds were to be given up The town of Sedan was to be thrown open to the Germans and the French soldiers were to be taken out to the meadows on the bend of the Meuse, between Donchery and Sedan and there encamped till their departure for Germany could be conveniently arranged

De Wimpffen spoke bitterly of having hurried back from Africa only to find such a task as this devolve upon him It was indeed an ill-omened journey to join a force which he found outnumbered and defeated one might almost say, before the battle began and to assist in an act of surrender that would be to his eternal regret.

THE KING VISITS THE EMPEROR

King William made a visit to the captive Emperor in the chateau of Frenois yesterday afternoon Napoleon remained perfectly calm In the beginning of the visit he received his guest of 1867 and his conqueror of today with grave politeness, spoke with him for a few moments in an outer room, and then withdrew with the King into another room, where no one followed them The Crown Prince stepped to the door and closed it and the French and German officers present remained some little time waiting before Napoleon and the King returned What they had said to each other may have concerned the status of the captive Emperor Certain it is that Napoleon was much affected by the courtesy of King William, and that he expressed to the Crown Prince in warm terms his sense of the generous manner in which he had been treated

THE HOME OF THE CAPTIVE

To-day, Sept 3 the Emperor has started for Aix-La-Chapelle on his way to his future residence in Germany He is to be lodged during his detention in the palace of Wilhelmshohe, in Cassel, a palace where once his uncle King Jerome of Westphalia lived and which was then called Napoleon's Hohe The Emperor desired to pass through as little as might be of French territory and to travel very quietly His personal baggage his servants and his handsomely appointed carriages have been allowed to accompany him with I believe a few of the French [illegible] of his household Gen Boyer of the Prussian army and Prince Synar late Prussian Secretary of Embassy in Paris have been attached to him as aides [illegible]

The muddy streets of Donchery with their crowds of soldiers [illegible] and led horses were cleared for a few minutes this morning between [illegible] that a train of carriages might pass at a trot and take the northern road around the great bend of the river The people stared with idle wondering "Who could it be?" Another general perhaps Alas how many generals there are in the world, and how many hungry soldiers These people would all join the Peace Society to-morrow if they gave effect to their feelings Another general no [illegible] he himself [illegible] as they watch such of the Imperial liveries and of the man in the [illegible] It is he himself [illegible] with [illegible] the [illegible] the [illegible] fallen [illegible] that hats [illegible] German [illegible] then [illegible] of Napoleon [illegible] must have been their sentiment before the war The prisoners are [illegible] their [illegible] generals [illegible]

THE [illegible] PRISONERS [illegible]

The Emperor found his position [illegible] at Sedan after the armistice [illegible] that he was [illegible] himself He [illegible] the [illegible] to fight and die for him but when it came to all being prisoners together they were [illegible] I hear that this [illegible] angry [illegible] astonishment at what has happened makes it hard work to [illegible] the 80,000 prisoners [illegible] who have been taken first and last about Sedan there was actual danger of bloodshed this morning when the prisoners began to move out of the town Happily the officers in command showed admirable tact and firmness The French kept their old authority by not straining the cord too tight the Germans by not showing themselves too much in the scene

Sedan is presenting the wildest scene of confusion that you can imagine Narrow streets deep in mud for we have had heavy rain to-day [illegible] half [illegible] with the [illegible] houses [illegible] and dead [illegible] lying everywhere [illegible] for Marshal McMahon [illegible] injured at the beginning of the battle but his life is not in danger

The loss and [illegible] the French has been something dreadful You ask what is to be their next move? I answer to Paris So say the [illegible] says the whole voice of public rumor and public opinion in the German armies To Paris, unless the French will yield up Strasburg and Metz and pay war expenses

Count Bismarck would be content with less but the German people insist on hard terms and the German people must be obeyed To Paris then is the cry, and with their accustomed energy the mud [illegible] travel stained legions of King William are off and away on the road to the French Capital

RIVERSIDE HOMESTEAD ASSOCIATION

This association of whose organization we gave an account a few days since [illegible] of shares As this will [illegible] the proper [illegible] organization of that kind in this city [illegible] well enough state what are its purposes [illegible] the manner in which it is proposed [illegible] operations The purposes of the [illegible] Association are not at all speculative in the ordinary sense of the word They are dependent for the profits of their investment upon the natural advance in the value of their lands consequent upon the co-operation of many individual shareholders and the advance on values of all surrounding lands by reason of the expansion of population and demand for room outside of but still near, the city The Riverside Homestead Association has a fraction over one hundred and twenty acres of land situated just south of Brooklyn on the east side of the river the near est boundary line being about one mile from the ferry landing at East Portland The tract lies in one strip along the Wallamet river half a mile in length and another strip along the Oregon and California railroad, half a mile in length the two strips being connected near the middle by two rows of blocks (with a street between them) the whole forming a figure not unlike the letter H It is divided into 74 blocks 200 feet square (with streets running at right angles and [illegible] fractional lots along the river front The shares number 400 worth $60 per share It will be seen that a share has represents nearly a lot with an undivided interest in the 80 fractional lots The 80 fractional shares are to be sold [illegible] at the proper time for the benefit of the Association shareholders [illegible] going in for the proceeds in proportion to the number of shares held When all shares are taken and the Association shall determine to do it the choice of lots and blocks will be put up at auction to the highest bidder, the proceeds of such sales after deducting the original price of shares or lots, to be divided equally among the whole number of shares Thus, if a person wants a particular lot or block and is willing to pay $100 or $200 premium in order to get the more [illegible] he pays it and takes the lot or block as his individual property the premium being divided among the whole number of shareholders It will be seen therefore that everything is co-operative, and all interests mutual No man can make a dollar out of it without also making a dollar for every other equal shareholder There is no chance for loss, unless the property by some chance should depreciate far below the first actual cost Whether this is liable to happen in the case of this particular tract of land must be judged by each for himself but considering the steady and unprecedented advance on real estate in this city and neighborhood and at East Portland and vicinity, for the last year or two, it seems hardly possible for values to go back

In the Riverside Association all proper precautions seem to have been taken to guard against monopolies of shares No person is allowed to buy more than the number of shares representing three blocks, or twenty four lots, and votes determining the operations of the Association are restricted in the same manner The buyers of shares may pay down $60 per share which will exempt them from all assessments or they may pay $15 quarterly with an assessment of $3 per share payable with the first installment, being liable in this latter case to another (and only one other) assessment of $3 per share Upon the payment of the shares in full with the assessments as above the holder is entitled to his certificate and his proportion of all the profits accrued from all sources No officer of the Association receives any pay for services except the Secretary, who gets $25 per month, so it will be seen that the expenses must be light

That part of the tract lying along the river is a high plateau, nearly level about 60 to 90 feet above the water There is no part of the front row of blocks but commands a splendid view of Portland and the river for miles up and down stream That part of the tract lying along the railroad is every foot of it, of the richest loam soil and adapted to gardening purposes A beautiful little stream of pure water runs through almost the entire length of this wing of the tract affording the means of irrigation and power sufficient to supply pure water to every part of the whole tract There is not a waste lot or fractional lot in the entire tract Under all these advantages it would seem impossible that there should be any chance of loss to shareholders Within a year each shareholder, if he chooses may get a perfect title to as many lots as his shares may represent or he may continue his interest, undivided with the Association while the organization may exist—Oregonian

THE RIVERSIDE HOMESTEAD ASSOCIATION.

We have been led to make these remarks from the fact that the subject of taking homesteads in the outskirts of this city and East Portland is being thoroughly discussed by all classes and each homestead the Riverside [illegible] of East Portland has already [illegible] a tract of land [illegible] ferry landing It is shaped like the letter H one half of which is half a mile in length, borders on the river

From this portion of the homestead which is elevated but a trifle above the other portion [illegible] forty or fifty feet above the river can be had an extensive view of [illegible] East Portland the shipping, and the Willamette river for several [illegible] The land [illegible] [illegible] fir [illegible] A [illegible] state of [illegible] the water [illegible] With a hydraulic [illegible] Daily Herald
